Chris joined Norman Hanson & DeTroy as an associate in 2022. He focuses his practice on workers' compensation matters. Prior to joining the firm, Chris worked as a public defender in Georgia, where he was born and raised. After his time with the Public Defender's Office, Chris gained civil litigation experience practicing in the areas of construction litigation and lien rights. Most recently, Chris returned to the practice of criminal law in Savannah, Georgia where he worked for the District Attorney's Office.

New to Maine, Christopher and his wife, Alisa, live in Scarborough with their son and two dogs and enjoy exploring and experiencing all that Maine has to offer.
