TRIALS & LITIGATION

Norman Hanson DeTroy was founded in 1975 based on an uncompromising commitment to excellence in the representation of our clients in the state and federal courts of Maine. Our clients trust us to provide experienced, strategic advice in all aspects of civil litigation because they know we have a proven record of successful results. Our adversaries respect us because they know our reputation for meticulous case preparation and effective, aggressive courtroom advocacy.

Our clients range from multinational corporations and household-name insurance companies to small businesses and individuals. Regardless of the size of the client or the complexity of the matter, we take the time to get to know each client so that we can offer aggressive, smart representation best tailored to that client’s expectations, needs, and budget. Our depth of experience combined with thorough, but cost-efficient, practices allows our attorneys to counsel and advocate for clients in the most effective way possible.

We handle a wide variety of civil matters, including personal injury, property damage, contract disputes, construction matters, defamation and slander, negligence, products liability, and professional malpractice. When it comes to insurance coverage and complex business litigation, we work together with our experienced colleagues in those practice groups to make sure the right expertise is applied.

If you need experienced, results-driven, cost-effective litigation counsel, call us to assist you.
